Note: new folder "assignment_6" in github has most of the relevant page, some updated files are in the main part of the repo.

Changes made: functionality can be seen when adding a color and material to the Couch Pillow section in products. You can add to cart and see an updated cart.

Lo-fi Shopping Cart Prototype

Design Choice Rationale: I chose to have the shopping cart page be a popup, similar to a menu bar to slide in from the side. I chose this method rather than creating a new html page because it's easier to navigate from the shopping cart back to the current page the user was on.

Design Choice Rationale: I kept the same idea as the lofi version but made the checkout button centered and colored to give it more emphasis and direct attention as a checkout button.
